

Dr. Mohamad Roumie (LAEC/CNRS, Lebanon)

PhD in Nuclear and Accelerator Physics from Strasbourg University in 1994; joined the Lebanese CNRS in 1996; Currently Research Director at the Lebanese Atomic Energy Commission of the CNRS-L and head of its ion accelerator facility; Counterpart of many IAEA TC and CRP projects; collaborating in research projects with local and international partners, involving Master and PhD students; focus on promoting and using accelerator based techniques for applied research in materials science, environment and cultural heritage; Author and co-author of more than 95 articles in the field.