

Prof. Nicolas Arbor

Associate professor in nuclear physics at the University of Strasbourg. Head of the DeSIs research team at the IPHC laboratory (Strasbourg-France), working on the development of nuclear instrumentation and Monte Carlo algorithms for medical, industrial and environmental radiation protection applications.