

Iveta Steblevska currently works at Queen's University (Canada) as a Graduate Research Assistant and is pursuing a doctoral degree in Mechanical and Materials Engineering. She previously worked in the Scientific and Research Design Institute of Biotechnical Systems and Interdisciplinary Project Centre, Saint Petersburg Electrotechnical University "LETI" (Russia). Iveta's main research interest is in Electronic Engineering applied to particle accelerator systems.