

Continuing Medical Education Credits

All officially designated participants and registered observers are eligible to receive up to 21,5 CME (Continuing Medical Education) credits, awarded by the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME). Many countries around the world recognize EACCME credits. To be eligible to receive CME credits you must have completed the short questionnaire for each relevant session and the conference feedback survey by 1 November 2024. Both will be available through the IAEA Conference App.